

Lexi Stout

Lexi Stout joined Peak as an intern in 2023 and full-time in July 2023 after graduating from the University of Colorado Boulder with degrees in Environmental Studies and Geography, and minors in Environmental Planning and Business. She is passionate about environmental sustainability, advocating for climate action, and promoting social justice. At Peak, she gets the opportunity to contribute to meaningful transportation development projects that put her academic studies and passion to work to affect change.

Notable projects at Peak include I-70 Floyd Hill, Central Federal Lands Lake Nighthorse project, and the I-270 Improvements Environmental Impact Statement.